ARTIST STATEMENT

As an artist, my second name is "germenevtika". This term signifies the method of investigating and interpreting texts and symbols, employed to comprehend and unveil their meanings. The primary objective of germenevtika is to decipher the true essence of messages and convey their significance. This fundamentally characterizes my approach to art.

I am deeply intrigued by delving into the psychology of human interactions with one another and with the world around them, channeling human emotions into visual form. I relish dissecting emotions like joy, sorrow, indifference, ecstasy, and jealousy. Because emotions are abstract, the pursuit of visually representing them is particularly captivating.

The overall composition of my photographs echoes surrealism, allowing ample room for imagination and prompting contemplation.
